On December 4, 2001, Stephen's Ace Hardware "Tooling Up for the Holidays" annual benefit raised more than $3700 for Open Horizons Child and Family Development Center.

Individuals participating in the event purchased holiday gifts and decorations from Stephen's Ace Hardware, raffle tickets for door prize drawings contributed by Stephen's Ace Hardware, and silent auction items donated from Stephen's Ace Hardware, Jan & Stan Nicpon and John Youngberg.

Open Horizons, a project of Tempe Community Council, is a dropout prevention program for parenting teens in the Tempe Union High School District. Since 1989, Open Horizons has provided a range of services for these young parents including quality child care, parenting skills training, and case management for the teen parents and their babies.

Tempe Community Council and Open Horizons would like to thank Steve Herrgesell, owner of Stephen's Ace Hardware, and the community for their generous support of the Open Horizons program.
